Meet Chloe

Originally from Fairfield, Connecticut, Chloe has been in Massachusetts for three years and currently lives in Somerville. She has a large extended family, most of whom still live in Connecticut, and tries to spend time with them whenever possible.

Outside the Office

Outside of the office, Chloe enjoys spending time with friends, checking out new restaurants, reading, and cuddling with her two cats. Chloe loves to stay active by attending F45 classes, hiking, and skiing.

Background

Prior to joining Ligris, Chloe held various internships with legal services and law firms around the Boston area during law school, and worked as a contract specialist for a national food service company prior to law school.

Why Chloe?

The ability to join a team that prioritizes the goals of the client while remaining efficient and reliable.
