Meet Liz

Liz's practice focuses on residential transactions where she represents buyers and sellers in purchase and sale negotiations as well as representing lenders in residential real estate closings. Liz lives in Needham with her husband, Kevin, and three children, Nora, John, and Elle. She is very involved in the Needham government, being an elected Needham Town Meeting Member and former elected member of the Needham Planning Board. Liz also serves on the Board of Advisors for Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Needham.

Outside the Office

Liz enjoys spending time with her three children- going from field hockey games, to basketball games, to theater performances. Liz also immensely enjoys traveling and skiing on the weekends with the family.
