Meet Erin

Erin primarily focuses on representing buyers and sellers in the financing, sale, and purchase of residential real estate.

Outside the Office

Erin spends most of her free time visiting her family on Long Island and playing with her cocker-spaniel mix dog. She also enjoys traveling and is an avid skier.

Background

Before joining the team at Ligris, Erin worked at a large international law firm in Boston where she represented corporate clients in a wide variety of matters, including mergers and acquisitions, financing transactions, and corporate governance. Erin's experience working on corporate transactions strengthened her attention to detail during contract negotiations, and it helped her develop the skills necessary to resolve the variety of issues that arise in various types of real estate transactions.

Why Erin?

Erin understands that the process of buying and selling real estate can seem daunting for most people. Her main goal is always to make the process as stress-free and streamlined as possible for her clients. Erin is a dedicated advocate for each of her clients, and she personally enjoys the feeling of fulfillment when each transaction closes successfully.
