Meet Scott

Scott primarily focuses on representing lenders buyers and sellers in residential transactions, including drafting, reviewing, and negotiating purchase and sale agreements.

Scott is committed to providing excellent, cost-effective legal services. Scott has a reputation for being highly meticulous and responsive to his clients.

Outside the Office

I enjoy playing catch, flag football with my grandchildren, golf with my twin brother who resides in Los Angeles, and working out.

Background

Attorney Scott N. King has been practicing law in Massachusetts for almost 50 years. He was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1972. He has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Trinity College (CT), and earned his JD and LLM in Taxation from Boston University School of Law.

He is experienced in the representation of individuals and mortgage lenders for commercial, industrial, residential and condominium properties in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He has been honored by a national credit for seven consecutive years as Vendor of the Year, an award for partnership excellence. Attorney King also has been the Academic Coordinator and a Lecturer of Real Estate and Advanced Real Estate courses for the Northeastern University Paralegal Program.

Why Scott?

Ligris is an exceptional team of legal professionals. From my first day with the firm, it is clear that the focus is on people. For Ligris, that means treating their employees well and building great client relationships. I am honored to be a part of the team.
