The purchase or sale of real estate – whether a single family home or an office park – is always a landmark moment. When we work with you in a residential or commercial transaction, our attorneys are ready to answer questions, negotiate on your behalf, and explain options at every step in the process. We will do everything possible to ensure a smooth and predictable transaction, and efficiently handle any snags or surprises that may arise. We'll never leave you wondering what is going on.

We have worked with individuals, families, business owners and developers across the greater Boston area. We know your community, including many of the real estate professionals, lenders and other service providers who may be involved in your transaction. We offer competitive fee arrangements based on the type of transaction.

When you meet with a Ligris attorney for the first time you will recognize the enthusiasm and energy with which we approach our work. Let our passion work to your advantage.
